

Questions from the Audience

1. What are the commonalities in tweet words between male and female?
2. What are the differences in tweet words between male and female? Are there words that are unique to gender?
3. Are there certain words that predict gender more strongly?
4. How accurately can gender be predicted by using tweets?
5. Do females or males tend to tweet more?
6. Is there any acknowledgement for additional gender options?
7. Do the user profile descriptions or tweets predict gender better?
8. What are some ethical considerations with a project like this?
9. Could punctuation have played a strong role if it wasn't cleaned out?
10. How were "slang" words, such as "u" for "you", handled?